CATHOLIC MEN TO MARCH IN HOLY NAME PARADE

All Souls Parish to Send Delegation to S. F. for Observance Sunday

Men of All Souls' Church in this city are planning to take part in the Holy Name Parade in San Francisco next Sunday, October 5, in which more than 50,000 male members of the San Francisco Arch-Diocese will participate.

The procession is to be held in commemoration of the 650th anniversary of the founding of the Holy Name Society, the objects of which are to promote reverence for the Holy Name of God and to encourage clean speech on the part of its members.

San Mateo county will send a special train into San Francisco on Sunday. It will start at the southernmost limits of the county and pick up the various delegations en route. It is expected that 1,000 men of this county will be in the parade.

The various parishes of the diocese will also enter floats which will appear before their representatives in the procession. Several bands will discourse music for the marchers. Every delegation will carry its own Holy Name banner and an American flag.

The parade is to end at the civic center, where ex-Governor Dunn of Illinois will make a short talk, as will Archbishop Hanna. Other features of the program there will be the singing of hymns and benediction of the blessed sacrament.

Men of All Souls' parish are expected to turn out en masse. They will march from the church to the Southern Pacific depot, where they will board the train at 12:05 for San Francisco.

MAN FINED $25 ON CHARGE OF PETIT LARCENY

Accused by Thomas Connors, Southern Pacific detective, of having stolen three inner tubes and two balloon tires from the Southern Pacific yards at Bayshore, John F. Atkin entered a plea of guilty before Justice of the Peace Ed Farrell on Monday and paid a fine of $25.

The theft is alleged to have occurred about six weeks ago and since that time the stolen goods had been traced to Atkin and were reported found in his machine.

U. S. Brown, believed to have been accessory to the crime, has also been charged with petit larceny by Connors. His hearing will be held this morning at 10 o'clock.

City Barnyard Golf Glory to Be Fought For

It now looks as if the Barnyard golf championship of South San Francisco will vie with the World's series for interest during the coming week.

Not so long ago the postal clerks issued a challenge to the wide world. Virden Packing Company horseshoe tossers accepted the challenge. Then things went dead. Like two small boys trying to avoid engaging in a fist fight, the mail men said to Virden, "Cross this line," and it is reported they stuck out their collective tongues at the butchers. Not to be outdone, the butchers said, "Knock this chip off our shoulders."

With things at that inactive stage an innocent bystander is said to have stepped in and arranged the following details:

The tournament is to be played on the Virden court.

Regulation horseshoes are to be used. (Horses must be removed from the shoes before they are thrown.)

Scouting of the rival aggregation will be permitted on one day only preceding the tourney.

Eleven games of 50 points each will be played, the champion being the team that wins six or more out of eleven games. One game will be played each noon until the series is completed.

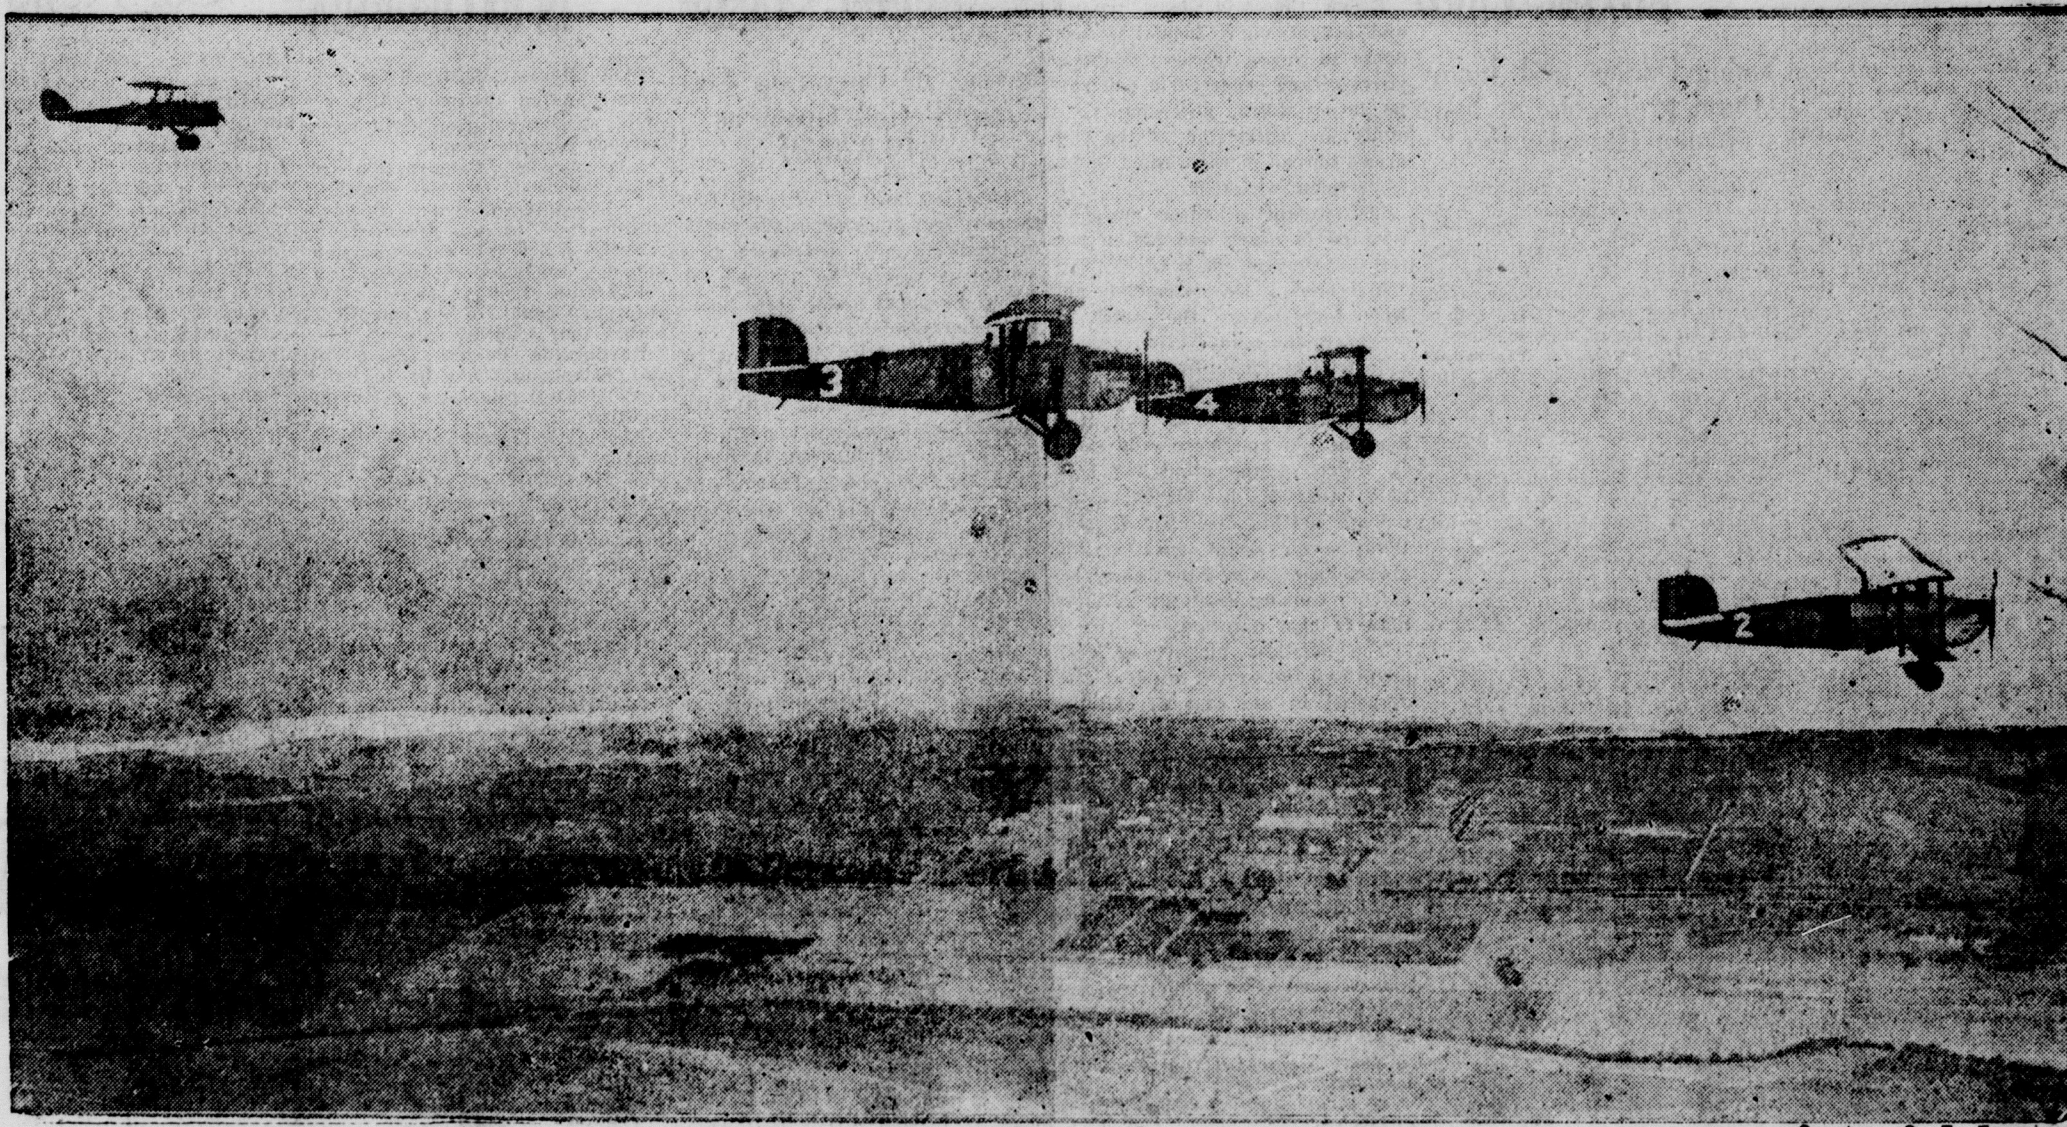

"Virden shoe-pitchers await the coming of the mail clerks," Fred Schmidt said yesterday. "We are ready any noon to start the series."

Therefore, the next move is up to the mail clerks.

YOUNG LADIES' INSTITUTE HOLDS HOPE CHEST SHOWER

The shower given by the Young Ladies' Institute of this city on Wednesday night at All Souls' Church netted 38 new articles for the hope chest that is to be the main attraction at the booth to be conducted in the fair to be held on October 16, 17, and 18.

WORLD FLIERS FORCED TO LAND HERE WHEN BATTERY GOES BAD

World Flight Planes and Escort Ships Land on Friesley Field When Wade's Boston II Develops Engine Trouble While Flying Over the City

Unexpected but welcome visitors threw this city into a high state of pleasurable excitement on Thursday afternoon. All three of the round-the-world flight planes, as well as a number of the scout planes that were escorting them into San Francisco, alighted on the long abandoned Friesley field southwest of this city when the Boston II, piloted by Lieut. Leigh Wade, was forced to make a landing on account of battery trouble.

Thousands of persons were watching the planes, 12 in all, flying toward the city after the fire siren had sounded the signal of their coming. The three world flight planes were flying together, while the army escort planes were above, in advance, and to the rear of the massive Douglass ships. Suddenly one of the giant planes left the formation and started to glide toward the earth. Its propeller had stopped and it was apparent its navigator was doing all in his power to keep it aloft while he searched the surrounding territory for a landing place.

It sailed slowly toward the Friesley field, barely skimming the high tension power line that runs along the road before the field. It struck in the small field adjoining the old aviation ground and crashed into and over a barbed wire fence. No damage was done, either to the machine or its pilot and mechanic.

Batteries Fail To Fit
Almost as quickly as the ship landed the pilot and his aide were on the wings and working to get the battery out. A hurry call to the Reliance Garage brought batteries of all shapes and sizes to the ground. But, they would not fit. In the meantime Lieutenants Smith and Nelson had landed their craft, as had several army pilots. Upon learning that no serious damage had been done they climbed into their planes and continued their flight to San Francisco where 50,000 persons were waiting for them.

Rush To The Field
Hardly had the great plane come to earth than all of South San Francisco that had been watching started for the field, by foot and by automobile. The schools were dismissed and hundreds of children were soon streaming across the fields. The San Bruno highway was lined with machines three deep and hundreds of persons clambered over the fences to get a closer look at the disabled air giant.

Wade was visibly angered by the misfortune to his plane and as visibly agitated that there was no battery handy to replace the worn-out one. It is said that in standing erect after lifting the last battery that would not fit out of the cockpit of his machine his eye alighted on a Pacific Gas

DO YOU KNOW THAT

The annual payroll of the industries operating in this city totals $5,986,442.

That, therefore, the monthly payroll is $498,870.16, or almost one-half million dollars.

And the weekly payroll, figuring 52 weeks in the year, is approximately $115,124.

The capitalization of South San Francisco's industries is about five times the amount of the annual payroll, or $30,475,000.

If you know these things, do you realize that the last accredited figures place the number of persons employed by the plants paying the above amount of money who live in this city at 3,311? There are many more men than 3,311 working in the 18 factories and plants here. Quite a large amount of the annual payroll is going out of this city with these commuters who only work here.

It is your business to boost South San Francisco, to tell those commuters of the advantages our city has to offer in order to keep that money circulating where it is earned.

LEGION TO HAVE SMOKER TONIGHT

Members of Bernard McCaffrey Post, No. 85, American Legion, will enjoy a smoker tonight in the firemen's quarters in the city hall, at 7:30 o'clock, according to W. J. Hyland, post adjutant. The smoker will be a preliminary to a special meeting during which a new project, now being planned as a winter activity of the post, will be discussed.

DUCK HUNTERS RETURN TODAY

Duck hunters of this region are returning today from the various favored hunting places in the Sacramento valley, where they spent Wednesday shooting at the spring and mallard.

Members of the Limit Gun Club, located at Maxwell, left here Monday noon to prepare their blinds and make ready for the opening of the season. They are: George A. Kneese, Ed Kaufman, Fred A. Cunningham, Fred J. Lautze, R. C. Stickle, E. C. Peck, A. P. Scott and Henry Haaker.

Dr. F. S. Dolley, A. H. Beetham, J. Rose and William Lauten, also members of the Limit Club, did their shooting on the El Cazadero Club, near by.

Dr. T. C. Donk went to Colusa for the opening day's shoot, while Charles Storek chose Cooper's meadows, in Tuolumne county.

CONNOLLY POOL ROOM IS ROBBED

Burglars broke into the pool room of C. T. Connolly on Grand avenue early Saturday morning and took a quantity of cigarettes and candy. An amount of money in the cash drawer was left untouched.

Local police examined the premises thoroughly and could find no marks to indicate the place had been broken into. The money in the drawer is believed to have been left untouched because the burglars were afraid to open the register because the bell would sound.

FOUR PAY FINES FOR TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS

Several motor vehicle law offenders, cited by City Marshal Louis Belloni and his officers, appeared before City Recorder Cunningham on Wednesday morning to answer various charges.

Thomas Coppajohn of 1443 15th street, San Francisco, was fined $5 for cutting a corner and operating a machine without license.

Shalaan Barach of 430 Lake street, San Francisco, answered a charge of speeding at 30 miles an hour, and paid $10 fine.

A. J. Kelley of 275 Turk street, San Francisco, was fined $5 for cutting a corner and operating his automobile without a license.

John Marengo of 71 Neptune street, San Francisco, paid $10 for speeding at 32 miles an hour.

David J. Conant, of 622 West Santa Clara street, San Jose, paid $30 for speeding at 40 miles per hour.

ENTERPRISE TO HAVE TEAM IN SAN FRANCISCO MID-WINTER LEAGUE

Players of Twilight League Decide To Enter Faster Company During Coming Winter; Will Wear Spangles of The Enterprise

The Enterprise will be represented by a fast baseball team in the San Francisco Mid-Winter League, which starts its season this month. Players who performed in the Enterprise Twilight League, led by Joe Wette, manager of the cup-winning Western Meat Products team, have entered the lists under the name of The Enterprise in an effort to reciprocate for the work done by this paper in organizing the Twilight League.

Among the favorites of the Twilight League who will wear the Enterprise spangles in the new organization are Truesdale, Kelley, and "Jazz" Wette of the Western Meat Products; "Crip" Wallace of Pacific Coast Steel, Gus Figuredo and Lewis of Western Pipe and Steel. Other players include Ed Flynn and Heine Baccala of San Bruno, Parham, a pitcher employed by Western Meat in San Francisco; "Shanks" Murray, and Cordozo.

Joe Kent will have active charge of the management of The Enterprise team and who will be aided by Joe Wette. Kent has managed teams in the San Francisco Mid-Winter League in other years. In 1920 he handled the Bouquet Cohn team, which finished second, and in 1921 he was at the head of the Ford Motor Company team, which also finished in the runner-up position. Since that time he has taken no active part in semi-pro baseball.

May Play in Burlingame
Games in the Mid-Winter League will be played at Recreation Park in Burlingame beginning at the close of the regular Pacific Coast League season, and in Burlingame. It is likely that most of the played by The Enterprise team will be scheduled for Burlingame. Preceding the regular season the 20 or more teams who have asked for admission to the Mid-Winter League will play an elimination series to determine the eight teams which will form the Class A circuit.

The lineup of The Enterprise team for those games will probably consist of Truesdale, ss; Kelley, lf; "Jazz" Wette, 3b; "Crip" Wallace, 2b; Ed Flynn, 1b; Heine Baccala, p; Parham, c; Figuredo, cf; Murray, 3b; Cordozo, c; Lewis, c.

If the team weathers the elimination series and is admitted to the Class A circuit it will be allowed to draft players from the unsuccessful teams.

REDWOOD CITY, Oct. 2.—Pleading guilty before Justice of the Peace Ray Griffin Tuesday afternoon to charges of visiting a house of ill fame, 17 men, most of them young, and many of them married, paid fines of $10 each to the court, following the imposition of sentence by Judge Griffin, the aftermath of Sunday morning's spectacular raid on the Cavanaugh resort at Menlo Park.

Two other defendants in the raid cases forfeited their cash bail, not appearing in court, while on the recommendation of Sheriff T. C. McGovern the charges against five minors nabbed in the raid were dismissed.

A total of $190 was thus procured by the court through the imposition of the fines. In passing sentence, Judge Griffin warned the defendants against future similar offenses, but added that the present fight against bootlegging is aimed primarily at the proprietors of bootleg establishments, rather than visitors to these places.

MEAT PACKERS WIN 1924 DIAMOND TITLE

Western Pipe Easily Vanquished in Second Game by 16-to-4 Score

With "Jazz" Wette pitching a high class of baseball for Western Meat Products, Bill Vargas' Western Pipe and Steel team found itself utterly and completely outclassed and lost the second and deciding game of the championship series Sunday morning. The score was 16 to 4.

For four innings it was as neat a baseball game as a person could crave on a Sunday morning. At that stage the score was 3 to 2 in favor of the butchers, and the way the chucks were working it looked as if the score might be that close at the finish. But Figuredo weakened in the fifth and allowed five markers to cross the plate. It was his finish, but Miller, who replaced him, fared no better and was also chased from the box by a barrage of base hits in the eighth frame.

Pipers Score First
As aforementioned, both teams went scoreless for three innings. In the fourth Western Pipe chased over two runs, when, after two men had been retired, Howard Truesdale booted a fly behind second base. Ebbeling walked and Lewis singled, filling the bags. At that point Bowie, Western Pipe first sacker, hit to center field for two bases, McMills and Ebbeling scoring.

Apparently the ambitions of the Pipers did not sit well with the meat packers, for they greeted Figuredo with three resounding singles, filling the pouches. A couple of errors and a two-base smack by Harp accounted for three runs. In the fifth inning Western Meat made five more, and in the eighth they chased over eight and definitely settled things.

Cup Is Presented
Immediately after the game the huge silver loving cup, given by the Manufacturers' Association, was presented to Manager Joe Wette of the champion Western Meat team, by Harry J. Borba, secretary of the league.

CATHOLIC FAIR TO BE HELD ON OCT. 16, 17, 18

Four booths are being planned for the bazaar to be given in the parish hall of All Souls' Church on October 16, 17, and 18. The Young Ladies' Sodality, the Young Ladies' Institute, the Italian people and the Sunday school will each conduct booths. Workers for each of these units are already in the field securing contributions for the booths and disposing of tickets.

The funds raised at the bazaar are to be used for the benefit of the church in defraying the current expenses and making needed improvements.

Father Moran seemed enthusiastic over prospects for the success of the fair, when interviewed on Tuesday morning. He pointed to the number of willing workers already on the job and to the plans that have been formulated as indications of the success of the fair.

In addition to the booths, several entertainment features are being planned.

ALL PERSONS UNDER 18 MUST REGISTER FOR SCHOOL WORK

Attention of parents is called to the state law governing the registration of all minors between the age of 3 and 18 years for school work, by A. C. Kleemeyer, principal of the local grade schools.

Signs have been posted about the city warning parents of their duty in this matter. The political code of the state reads: "Parents, guardians or other persons in charge of minors over 3 years of age and under 18 years of age must see that such minors are registered at a public elementary school house in the school district in which they reside."

NEW MEMBERS SIGN LA FOLLETTE CLUB

Twenty-seven were enrolled in the La Follette Club of South San Francisco at a rally held in Fraternal Hall on last Friday evening. The meeting, which was well attended, was addressed by Capt. Victor Harding of the base hospital, Palo Alto. Hugh McCaffrey acted as chairman of the evening.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE SEASON REGARDED AS HUGE SUCCESS

Interest in Healthful Sport Promoted Among Plants in Industrial Zone

Sunday morning's contest between Western Meat and Western Pipe and Steel brought to a close the first successful season of the Enterprise Twilight Baseball League. Western Meat won the championship of the Industrial Zone by taking the first two games of a series that was to have gone three if necessary.

The Twilight League was organized early in summer by the Enterprise as an experiment. That it was successful in its purpose, which was to promote recreation for the men in the plants and to foster the spirit of fellowship and increase the range of acquaintanceship among the men, is shown by the results.

For five weeks six teams formed the circuit and three games were played each week. The pioneer teams and their managers were: Western Meat, Producers, Joe Welte; Western Pipe and Steel, Bill Vargus; Enterprise Foundry, George McMillan; American Marble and Mosaic, Al Rubiola; Metal Thermit and Pacific Sheet Steel, Willard T. Butts; Virden Packing Company, Fred Schmidt.

At the end of that period Pacific Coast Steel and Pacific Car and Equipment asked for admission to the circuit and it was expanded to include eight teams. These teams were managed by John Butler and Warren R. Emery.

During the entire eleven weeks the league was in action more than 100 men were actively engaged in a healthy sport while the number of followers of the teams brought the number of participants to nearly 200. Besides the fortunes of their team through the columns of this paper, the league championship was fought for by Western Meat and Western Pipe. Western Meat's victory earned for that aggregation the possession of the silver trophy cup which was furnished by the Manufacturers' Association.

It is likely that the Enterprise Twilight League will operate again next season if there is a demand for it on the part of the participants.

PEANS ARE LAID FOR BETTER BABY CLINIC AT SANTA CRUZ FAIR

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 2.—The Parent-Teacher Association Federation of Santa Cruz county, working in conjunction with local doctors and nurses, will hold a Better Baby clinic on two afternoons at the Santa Cruz County Fair, which opens October 7, 3 Thursday and Friday afternoons, October 9 and 10, have been selected, and the clinic will be open from 1 until 4 o'clock. Babies from six months to four years of age will be examined, and there are valuable prizes to be given in four different classes to boys and two for girls for the best of the "better" babies. Scoring will be done by the doctors on the point system.

Friday afternoon there is to be a popular baby contest, and the committee in charge has hit upon a scheme that will obviate the necessity of securing judges, which had to be given up as a bad job.

ASTHMA CONQUERED IN 24 HOURS BY NEW METHOD
Specialist Guarantees Complete Relief from Every Form of Asthma Within 24 Hours—Or No Cost

All that agonizing coughing, gasping and wheezing goes within 24 hours, and you sleep the night through at once without a break—through a remarkable new internal prescription developed by a Cleveland specialist.

It doesn't matter how long you have had asthma or what your age, this new treatment cures the severest spasms in 30 minutes or less, and is positively guaranteed to bring complete relief within 24 hours—or it costs you nothing.

Science now proves that asthma is not a mere external disease but is due to a fundamental internal condition—protein sensitiveness of the system. Most remedies—burning powders and the like—are merely temporary, and do not at all prevent the trouble from growing worse.

BAD HOPS

"Home-Run" Kelley demonstrated his right to that title by smacking one of Miller's shots for four bags in the seventh inning. There were two men on the bases at the time. In addition, Kelley hit two singles and scored four of his team's 16 runs. Not a bad day's work for one man.

Truesdale injured his leg when he slid into the plate in the fourth inning after Lewis had missed a pitch. The runner and catcher hit hard and when they went down Truesdale twisted his leg. He was helped up and after a few minutes of rest was able to return to the game.

Greeley did some opportune bunting. He hit a three-baser and one for two when there were men on the paths.

George McMillan, Enterprise Foundry team manager, was pressed into service by Western Pipe. He garnered one hit and scored one run.

Gus Figueiredo, who was such a sensation in center field in the first game, elected himself pitcher when Miller failed to arrive on time. He chuckled mystifying baseball until the fourth inning, when the Western Meat wrecking crew swung itself into action.

Welte twirled the flossiest game of the season. Only six batters hit safely and he struck out 12. Most of his trouble was brought on him by inopportune bobbles of his teammates.

Humming Bird Fishing Is Costly Pastime

REDWOOD CITY, Oct. 2.—Ever go humming bird fishing? Crazy? Nope! It can be done, but it's costly.

In witness whereof take the case of James Canillari of Pedro Valley, who yesterday was before Justice of the Peace Ray Griffin on a charge embracing "fishing" for humming birds.

Canillari was arrested by Game Warden Jack Burke for catching the necessary ingredients for a dish of Italian "polenta," which include humming birds, gold finch and wild canary, with nets. The prisoner, Burke charged, was "fishing about" in the recesses of the Pedro Valley in quest of the non-game birds, snaring them craftily with the fine weave nets.

Appearing before Justice of the Peace Griffin yesterday, Canillari admitted the charge against him, thus proving that fishing for humming birds is possible.

The proof that the practice is costly was given by Judge Griffin. He fined Canillari a cool $100. All of which made said Canillari hot, but he paid the fine.

due to the reluctance of those appointed to act. The entries will be lined up around the ball room of the casino, and the crowd will have an opportunity of examining all of them, and can then cast

ELMS IMPORTS NEW MUGS FOR BOXING CARD

Young Dudley and Jimmy Dunn to Topline at San Mateo Thursday Eve

Johnny Elms is exhibiting an almost complete change of character in his next oil of fisticuffs to be staged tonight at San Mateo. Most of the regular performers have been dropped for this one card and the fans will be treated to a lot of new scenery.

Young Dudley, colored scrapper who beat Chick Roach, Gene Cline and Young Carmen, but who was recently bested by Eddie Roberts in Oakland, will mix with Jimmy Dunn in the main event. Dunn boxed Harry Fargo on the last bill and displayed plenty of class.

Fargo is matched with Benny Alger, 145-pound main eventer from National Hall in San Francisco, in the semi-windup.

The feature bout brings together Kid Kirby and Johnny Lacatta, lightweights, who put on an enormous scrap in their last appearance together. Kirby had been experiencing fair sailing until he encountered Lacatta two weeks ago. They fought a slashing draw and Kirby was the most slashed when it was over.

Jack Attell, the middleweight who was dragged into the ring at the last show to entertain poor old Jimmy Cox, will have tougher battling this week. He is matched with Young Frank, University of California colored boxer, who has won 14 straight battles.

The preliminaries bring together Battling Kelly of Daly City and Young Bliss of Redwood City, featherweights; Young Spider Roach and Jimmy Barry, bantamweights; and Jesus De Jesus of Palo Alto and Arizona Simmons, bantamweights.

ACCIDENTS TO WORKING MINORS IN YEAR 7,478

Seven thousand, four hundred and seventy-eight industrial accidents to young workers under 21 years of age occurred in one year in three states, according to a study just completed by the children's bureau of the United States Department of Labor.

Thirty-eight of these accidents resulted in death and 920 in partial disablement for life.

Wisconsin, Massachusetts and New Jersey were the states included in the study. The cases of industrial accidents to minors were secured from the files of state industrial commissions and accident boards and were only those in which compensation had been paid; that is, in Wisconsin accidents causing disability of more than seven days' duration; in Massachusetts and New Jersey, accidents causing disability of more than 10 days' duration.

The smallest number of accidents and the lowest accident rate occurred in the case of children under 16. Each of the states studied had attempted to protect children under this age by prohibiting them from employment in certain occupations, chiefly in the operation of the more dangerous machinery, which is the source of greatest accident hazard to the young worker.

Children of 16 and 17 were prohibited from some employments in Massachusetts and Wisconsin, but in all three states were permitted to operate many of the dangerous machines.

Accident figures reflected this difference in legal protection. Power-working machinery caused a larger percentage of the accidents to the 16 and 17-year-olds than to children under 16—protected by law—or to young workers between 18 and 21—better able to protect themselves.

Accidents were also more serious to the 16 and 17-year group than to either the younger or older workers. Of the injuries to workers under 16, 10.7 per cent resulted in death or partial disablement for life. For those 16 and 17 years old who were injured, the rate was 13.4 per cent killed or permanently disabled; for the group 18-21 years the rate was 12.7 per cent.

DEPUTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY NAMED

REDWOOD CITY, Oct. 2.—Edmund Scott, young San Francisco attorney, has been appointed deputy district attorney for San Mateo county by District Attorney Franklin Swart, the appointment being operative from October 1. Formal filing of the papers of appointment were made with County Clerk Elizabeth M. Kneese yesterday.

Scott succeeds William Swelgart, who resigned some weeks ago to take up law practice in San Francisco.

W. P. FULLER CO. NOTES
Last Saturday, September 28, the girls' baseball team from W. P. Fuller & Company's factory took the lead of the South City girls' high school team by defeating them 40 to 36. It was a fast game with plenty of hitting on both sides. Miss E. Medeghini twirled for the factory team and struck out 18 opposing batters, while Miss C. Castro held the mound for the school team.

Everything is ready for the big ball game of the year to be played Saturday. The "Toiling Tilters" from the factory will journey to San Francisco and cross bats with the "Toiling Tilters" of the store. Both teams are composed of girls and employees of W. P. Fuller & Company. The game will be called at 2:15 p. m. at Memorial Park, at Van Ness avenue and Hayes street. A keenly contested game is looked for. Miss Emma Medeghini will pitch for the factory and Miss Harvey will pitch for the store. Come along and root for the South City girls.

Lineup as follows, according to batting order:

BELT RAILROAD EFFECTS SAVING DURING SEASON

Saving in Operating Cost for Period Given as $19,820.79

Increased business over the Belt railroad and a saving to the public in operating costs are shown in a statement issued by Charles H. Spear, president of the state board of harbor commissioners.

The comparative statement of revenue and expense, a copy of which has been filed with the chamber of commerce, for the fiscal years ended June 30, 1924, and June 30, 1923, shows 118,506 cars were switched, the net operating revenue being $103,144.58, or 87 cents per car. This figure stands against the previous fiscal period, when 116,416 cars were switched with the net revenue of $84,707.38, or 728 cents per car. The gain is $18,437.20, or 142 cents per car.

The report brings out the fact that 118,506 cars were handled under the present superintendence at a cost of $323,963.84, or $2.734 per car, as against $343,784.63 for handling 116,416 cars, or $2.953 per car, the cost of operation the previous years. The saving in operating cost is $19,820.79, or 221 cents per car.

A recapitulation emphasizes 2,090 more cars were handled this year than last at a saving in operating costs of $19,820.79, while the net revenue this year exceeded that of the previous year by $18,437.20.

Industrial and business interests, through the efficient operation of the Belt railroad, saved during the year in demurrage $3,618.50. Demurrage for the fiscal year 1923 amounted to $8,331.50, while in the 1924 period it was only $4,713.

In this connection it is pointed out by chamber of commerce executives that the organization conducted an energetic campaign among shippers urging them to unload cars promptly, thereby helping to avert a car shortage.

The effectiveness of this campaign is shown by the saving in storage or demurrage charges.

WORLD FLIERS LAND HERE

This city was thrown into a high state of excitement Thursday afternoon when the three huge "round the world" flight planes and several of the army escort planes landed on old Friesley flying field southwest of this city, after the Boston II, commanded by Lt. Leigh Wade, developed battery trouble as the planes were flying over South San Francisco en route to San Francisco where 50,000 persons awaited their coming.

Thousands of persons were watching the twelve planes fly over the city when one of the three huge world flight planes was seen to leave the squadron and sit toward the earth. It barely cleared the high tension wires running along San Bruno road, landed in a small field adjoining Friesley field and crashed into a light barbed wire fence. No damage was done to plane or pilots.

Following the disabled plane, the other two Douglas cruisers also landed, as did several of the army escort planes. Upon ascertaining there was no serious trouble the other planes continued on to San Francisco where a huge welcome awaited them. As the disabled plane was seen to descend hundreds of persons who had been watching from roof tops and from the street started afoot and by motor to the field, where they crowded around the Boston II and watched the pilot and his mechanic work to replace the battery. Several batteries were tried but it was not until one was commandeered from the Pacific Gas and Electric Company truck, driven by L. W. Marshall and parked along the roadside, that the huge ship again took off on the route its companions had taken toward San Francisco.

GLI ARVIATORI DEL GIRO DEL MONDO ATTERRANO QUI

Questa città fu gettata in grande eccitazione giovedì dopo pranzo quando gli arviatori del giro del mondo e moltissimi altri aeroplani che li accompagnavano furono costretti ad atterrare sul vecchio campo aviatore Friesley che si estende a Sud-Ovest.

L'atterraggio fu causato da un guasto alla batteria elettrica dell'aeroplano Boston II, comandato dal Tenente Leigh Wade, mentre volavano sopra South San Francisco diretti a San Francisco dove 50,000 persone aspettavano il loro arrivo.

Migliaia di persone guardavano i dodici aeroplani che volavano sopra la città, quando uno dei tre colossi che fecero il giro del mondo fu visto a lasciare il gruppo e precipitare verso la terra.

Nella precipitosa discesa, miracolamente salvò i fili di alta tensione della linea elettrica della Pacific Gas and Electric Company nelle vicinanze di San Bruno road e atterrò in un'area di campo d'aviazione Friesley battendo contro un debole steccato di fili di ferro.

Non si ebbe a lamentare nessun danno all'aeroplano o ferite ai piloti.

La discesa del Boston II fu seguita dagli altri due Douglas e da quasi tutti gli altri aeroplani che li seguivano. Dopo che fu constatato che il guasto era di poca entità, gli altri aeroplani continuarono il loro viaggio per San Francisco ove un grande ricevimento li aspettavano.

Nel momento che lo sfortunato aeroplano fu visto a discendere, centinaia di persone che stavano guardando dai tetti e nelle strade s'avviarono a piedi o cen le automobili verso campo dove si pigliarono attorno al Boston II a guardare il pilota ed il suo meccanico che erano affaccendati a cambiare le batterie del motore.

Nel lavoro di riparazione furono provate diverse batterie; ma non ebbe nessun risultato fin tanto che si ottenne quella del truck della Pacific Gas and Electric Company, guidato da L. W. Marshall, e che in quel momento era di passaggio sulla San Bruno road.

Il grosso aeroplano partì subito per la via che i suoi compagni presero verso San Francisco.

KNOW YOUR CITY

The Era of Knocking or of Dignified Silence Is Passing; It Is Time to Start Boosting

There are born boosters, persons who will boost anything and everything, whether it has merit or not. There are born workers, those who have implicit faith and foresight in their community's welfare. Their boosting is of a different order. There is a third large group that is inclined to be a little bit skeptical of the merits of anything. That group finds it easier to knock. In South San Francisco that minor group is listened to oftener than either of the other two groups because it is the Northern California habit to discount a booster because of a suspicion that he has something to sell.

South San Francisco is largely blessed with the squawking, dissatisfied group.

As is generally the case, there is no real cause for their constant blating. They would be dissatisfied in Paradise.

There are several outstanding facts about South San Francisco that make it one of the finest cities in the West. It will be the business of the Enterprise each week to take one fact or one group of facts that deal with South San Francisco's present prosperity and future promise and enlarge upon it. It is our hope that our readers will not only read and digest these facts, but they will tell them to the persons who find it easier to knock than to say a good word.

If a person cannot be proud that his city has a lower tax rate than the surrounding towns, that it has a higher percentage of paved streets than most California cities its size, that it has a larger payroll than most cities in its class, and that it offers many other advantages not found elsewhere, then he has no business in South San Francisco.

TWILIGHT BASEBALL

First Season of Inter-Factory Baseball Brought to Successful Close Sunday; Many Benefits Seen

With the close of the Enterprise Twilight Baseball League season last Sunday a review of the success of the project brings forth many points in its favor.

In the first place it brought out more than 100 men once each week to engage in health-giving, fun-giving sport in the open. Competition for the cups awarded developed all that was fine in sportsmanship among the men and encouraged a healthy rivalry between the plants. Friendships were promoted between the men in the several industries and a better community spirit was developed.

On the material side, a new baseball ground was built by the men. While it is still undeveloped, it furnishes an excellent nucleus for a municipally owned diamond where Sunday afternoon baseball could be promoted to the advantage of the city.

Practically every city of any size on the peninsula is represented in "bush league" baseball circles by a Sunday team. Such an organization not only furnishes amusement and recreation, but it serves to advertise.

South San Francisco can now join the hundreds of small cities in the state which support baseball teams. All that is needed is a little work on the present field. Material of very high calibre has been uncovered during the three months the Enterprise Twilight League operated for the formation of such a team.

HIGHWAYS NOT SIGNBOARDS

State Commission Acts Properly in Forbidding Lettering on Road Pavements

The action of the California State Highway Commission ordering erased all signs and symbols of the Ku Klux Klan that have been painted or otherwise inscribed on public highways and forbidding further signs on the roadways is right. This action does not represent a fight by the commission against the Klan, but merely a fight to keep the highways clean of advertising. It chances that the Klan is the offender in this case. But the order of the commission would apply with equal force to any other organization or any individual who might deface the highways by lettering or symbols of any kind.

The highways are made for travel, not for advertising media. Whatever inscriptions are allowed on the highway surface should be restricted to signs for the guidance and safety of traffic. Whatever else might be written on the pavement would only tend to lessen the attention value of the safety signs.

HARK, HARK, THE DOGS BARK

The Beggars Are Coming to Town

Since San Francisco decided that its "wealthy beggars" must no longer sell their pencils on its principal thoroughfares, this city has added to its floating population. Where one beggar found his way here on Tuesday, the principal pay day of the week, there are now three or four. Nor do they come on Tuesday alone.

It may be advisable for the city to pass an ordinance prohibiting beggars from plying their trade here.

South San Francisco has a highly organized and successful Community Chest. The needy can secure succor from that source. People were asked to contribute to that fund on the promise they would not be asked to donate to any benefit fund of any organization. These mendicants do not come within the letter of that pledge, but they will doubtless be taken care of by the fund if their needs are true ones.

Not only is the street beggar population increasing, but the door-to-door "sufferer" with the charity list, the trick magazine campaign and other tricks to prey upon the sympathetic are also on the increase.

What San Francisco does not want we surely do not want. Charities as they are now organized care for all who are truly needy.

THE GLOBE IS CIRCELED

Another Laurel Is Won Through Notable Achievement by Aviators From This Country

First to fly across the Atlantic.

First to fly across the Pacific.

First to fly around the globe.

These triumphs of aviation pioneering are a few of the many that now adorn the annals of American aerial navigation. However more advanced some of the European countries may be in their commercial application of aviation, it cannot be said that America has been lacking in the inventive genius or the demonstrated spirit of daring that have laid the foundations for greater things in the future.

It has been less than 21 years since the Wright brothers achieved their first flight in a heavier-than-air machine when they succeeded in making it stay in the air for less than one minute. It has been just 20 years this month since the same aviators made the first circle in an airplane. It was not much of a circle, perhaps, compared with the aerial stunts that are common performances today. But it was an achievement full of promise, though in all probability the circling of the globe by airplane within two decades from that time was then beyond the most rosy hopes of the Wrights.

That the development of long-distance aviation has gained great impetus from this globe-circling feat is evident right now in the fact that similar attempts by fliers from three countries (Portugal, Great Britain and Argentina) were undertaken during the time that the American expedition was successfully achieving its aim.

Speed was not the object of this American globe flight, although surprisingly fast schedules were made on the trip which was a succession of experiments in unproven paths.

There will be immediately, no doubt, other expeditions dispatched for the purpose of breaking the records of these first American globe fliers. But whatever speed any future aviators may be able to make in the attempt will redound in analysis to the credit of these pioneer adventurers of the air, whose discoveries have brought the knowledge that will benefit all who take the same trail after them.

WOMAN TO SERVE AS CHAIRMAN OF PESCADERO FAIR

Mrs. Dave Moore of Redwood City, formerly of the Pescadero section, was selected as general chairman of the County Fair to be given the last of October for the benefit of the Pescadero Community Center, at a meeting held recently in the center auditorium. Mrs. Moore was the chief executive of the Old Fashioned Ball held for the same purpose a year ago.

Among the representatives of the various organizations present at the fair meeting were Judge Woodhams of the Native Sons, Mrs. Ida Mesquite, Mrs. Margarette Dias, Mrs. Jack Dias, and Mrs. Herman Frey, all of the Native Daughters; George White, Miss Sarah Pinkham, and Miss Emily Leighton of the Grammar School, Mrs. Frank C. Williamson, Mrs. Daniel Adair and Mrs. Goulson of the Pescadero P. T. A.; J. C. Williamson of the Odd Fellows, Carl J. Coburn of the Community Center, and Kenneth Granger, Miss Emily Turner, Mrs. Bertha Zorzie and E. Williamson of the high school. The last named was appointed as secretary.

It was decided to hold the affair for a period of three days, and to occupy both the Community Center Auditorium and the Odd Fellows Hall for the entertainments and booths.

A general committee made up of the chairman of the various specific committees appointed by the organizations involved was appointed by Mrs. Moore to meet last Tuesday at 8 o'clock in the Community Center Auditorium, with a view of definitely listing the features to be presented during the affair, to allot space to the organizations that will function, for the concluding Sunday evening activity for all concerned.

Among the entertainment elements for the affair will be a general performance each evening, provided by a troupe of minstrels from Redwood City for one evening, a program by the local schools and the P. T. A. for the second evening, and a feature film for the concluding Sunday evening.

FINER BUILDING WILL REPLACE HOTEL DEL MONTE

The new Hotel Del Monte which will be erected on the site of the structure destroyed by fire early Saturday morning will be built as rapidly as architect's drawings may be obtained. S. F. B. Moore, president of the Del Monte Properties Company, is quoted as saying by the Monterey Peninsula Daily Herald. The Herald says: "It had been previously rumored that the new building might be erected with a commanding view of the bay and that possibly part of the present grounds might be devoted to a golf course, but officials of the company appear to be positive that no such change had been seriously contemplated. The value of the sentiment attached to the world over, to the present site eliminates more than the most sketchily speculative consideration of any possible change, they say. "The new structure will not only be strictly modern in every respect and fire proof, but will attempt to approach the acme of architectural beauty, appropriateness and atmosphere. There is little doubt that it will be Spanish in design and that the remaining wings will be changed and remodelled to conform to the main structure. It is stated that the architect has not yet been selected."

Serra Pilgrimage Not Affected MONTEREY, Oct. 2.—It takes more than a couple of $3,000,000 fires to put us out of commission. We're going stronger than ever, and are more determined than ever to make our annual fiesta, the Serra Pilgrimage, set for October 12-19, the biggest thing in the way of Spanish Day revivals ever staged in California.

This statement was made here this morning by Perry Newberry, director general of the Pilgrimage, following the disastrous fire that destroyed the lobbies, offices and parlors of historic Hotel Del Monte at 3 o'clock Saturday morning.

"We've gone too far to back out; and besides, we wouldn't back out if we could. Our directors are full of the same mind, and the statement of Hotel Del Monte officials that they will shortly be able to operate at 75 per cent capacity is an added incentive to go ahead and stage our show," said Newberry.

FOOTBALL

"I like to see the home team win. Whatever game they're playing in, and any time they lose a yard I want to see them come back hard."

I can't abide the cultured throng Who always say our crowd is wrong—

Those high, defeatist Sons of Light To whom their land is never right. I'm no true sport; I would not choose

To see my friends and neighbors Though worth must be the only test,

I want our own to be the best. I hope that we're the best by far, And, worst of all, I think we are!"

A week ago Wednesday, after having been transported to Balboa Park in various machines gathered up around town, our football team had its second scrimmage with the Jeffersonians, and we feel certain the victory would have been ours had it been a game. We know we improved and we're sure they did, as they not only "swiped" one of our plays, but used it on us.

The first couple of times they gained ground, but after we recognized it—well, "so much for that."

Yesterday we scrimmaged with them again, and with our familiarity with our signals—and theirs—there was some excitement.

When the last edition of the Blue and White went to press our squad numbered 15. With this issue it numbers 16. Now that's the spirit. Let's keep going. There are still a number of boys who with sufficient encouragement would come out. "Come on in, boys, the water's fine." You can always depend upon the girls; come on, girls, use your influence.

"Snag" Cook is out with the eleven again. "Snag" walked in front of someone's heel during scrimmage and spent the last week in remodeling that foremost feature of his face.

The hot showers are on their way!

That the freshmen have a rather pallid look about their faces we might attribute to the forthcoming event tomorrow evening.

The school belts are expected any day.

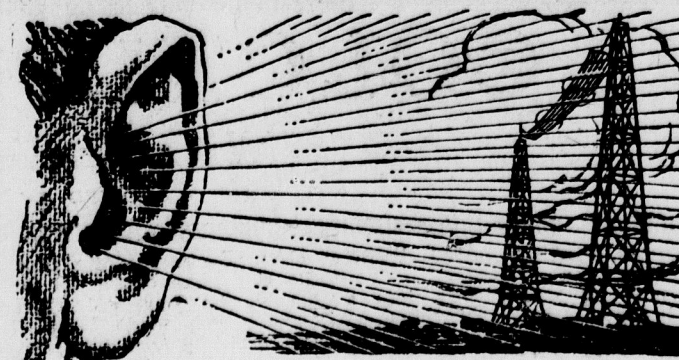

Considerable time and interest has been shown in the approaching basketball season. Boys have been merrily weighing in, and mournfully weighing out of the various teams.

ESCAPE DEATH BY LEAP FROM STALLED AUTO

SAN JOSE, Oct. 2.—Charles Ober and his 21-year-old daughter barely escaped death shortly after 9 o'clock Tuesday night when he stalled his automobile on the tracks of the Southern Pacific railroad near Perry station directly before a fast-moving passenger train.

Ober is reported to be a salesman for the Rucker Realty Company of this city, and was coming from his brother's ranch toward the Monterey highway. As he reached the tracks the brakes of his car locked. Realizing that he would not have time to save the machine he and his daughter jumped and thus escaped injury.

The train was No. 77, the Shore Line Limited, bound for San Francisco, and the automobile was struck squarely, hurled a considerable distance and completely demolished, parts of the machine being entangled beneath the cars and engine and delaying the train for a considerable time.

Ober, it was said, ran from the automobile in the direction the train was traveling, and narrowly escaped injury by being struck by the wrecked machine as it was hurled forward by the pilot of the engine.

BILLBOARD TAX CONSIDERED FOR SIGNS ON HIGHWAY

Ways and means of removing the billboard nuisance along peninsula highways were discussed at a meeting of the highway beautification committee of the Peninsula Chambers of Commerce, Federated, held at the home of Mrs. A. C. Aubrey, 1145 Laguna avenue, Burlingame, Tuesday night.

The committee considered the advisability of starting a statewide move to tax billboard signs as a means of limiting their number. It also considered a plan to confer with the chairman of the state highway commission relative to restricting the erection of billboard signs on the new Bayshore highway and Skyline boulevard.

SAN FRANCISCO WINS FIGHT TO CONDEMN LAND

REDWOOD CITY, Oct. 2.—Property of E. F. Turell and J. B. Enright, near this city, was condemned in favor of the City of San Francisco Monday afternoon by a jury in the local superior court, the jury awarding the property owners $5,500 for the piece of land involved in the condemnation proceedings.

The City of San Francisco had originally offered the defendants $3,300 for their land, it was stated. The condemnation proceedings were brought by San Francisco in securing its right of way for the Hetch Hetchy pipe line. Turell and Enright were co-defendants with Andrew Stephen Sattan et al. in a suit recently brought.

DAIRY COW TESTS WILL COMMENCE THIS WEEK

Newly Formed Association Secures Tester; Officers Are Named

Under the auspices of the newly organized San Mateo-Santa Clara Co-operative Cow Testing Association, testing of cows belonging to members of the organization will commence this week, it was announced today by an officer of the association.

Arthur Edward Haslam, experienced cow tester of Rhode Island, and, more recently, for the University of California, will be in charge of the work. His services will be available to members commencing October 1.

At a meeting of dairymen in Palo Alto the latter part of last week, R. Longwell of the Millbrae Dairy, was elected president of the association. E. N. Brown, manager of the Palo Alto Stock Farm, and Peter Faber, Runnymede dairyman, tied for the office of vice-president. Another election for this office will probably be held at the next meeting of the association.

Manuel Piers, proprietor of the Home Dairy of Palo Alto, was made secretary-treasurer.

The board of directors is composed of John Duffield of Palo Alto and Frank Machado, former president of the San Francisco Milk Producers' Association. The third member of the board depends on the outcome of the tie between Brown and Faber.

The purpose of the association is to provide means for the co-operation of its members in ascertaining the relative merits of their cows. The association agrees, from monthly tests, 24 hours in length, to be made by Haslam, to furnish each member with a record of the individual performance of each animal subscribed.

RAVENSWOOD, Oct. 1.—With the completion of the new well on the O'Connor tract, this region now has two of the finest wells on the peninsula. The second has just been finished to serve as an auxiliary in case of emergency and a turbine pump is being installed. It is 365 feet deep, has 79 feet of water-bearing gravel, and is expected to yield 800 gallons per minute. A 13-inch bore turbine pump is being installed. The entire cost of the new well is estimated at $5,500.

TIME and Prosperity

Are both wasted if you commute miles daily to your work.

The hours you spend on the train, the street car or in your machine are needlessly spent and will never be reclaimed. It is the precious pleasure hours that are wasted,—the hours you earn by laboring all day.

The money you spend in one day for train or car fare or gasoline amounts to quite a sum in one week and is a large amount in a month. Multiply the monthly commuting outlay by twelve and the figure becomes staggering.

Realize that it is the money that will put you in the prosperous class,—that will enable you to cultivate that hobby you have carried all your life,—and then take steps to stop that waste by moving nearer your work.

INCREASED SALES MADE POSSIBLE PRICE REDUCTION

In view of the upward trend in automobile prices, considerable surprise was occasioned by Dodge Brothers' recent announcement of a reduction in prices of their special type cars.

Dodge Brothers were able to do the unexpected, according to the factory announcement, on account of the increased volume of their purchases of the special equipment for the special type cars.

Dodge Brothers' special types consist of the standards cars equipped with accessories, which produce the utmost in comfort, convenience and appearance of the car. Among these are steel disc wheels, five balloon type tires, nickel trimmed radiator, nickel plated bumpers, automatic windshield wiper, rear view mirror, scuff plates, cowl lights and motorized with lock. A special body stripe is also provided.

Manufacturing and buying these accessories in quantity, Dodge Brothers are naturally able to install them at prices considerably lower than what the owner would have to pay at retail. The public was quick to sense this, and the demand for the special types grew steadily from the moment they were made available.

Their convenience and appearance has elicited the greatest admiration everywhere, and those who know the volume that has been attained have readily understood how Dodge Brothers were able to make a reduction when others were announcing advances.

Four Dodge Brothers' cars are affected by the reduction—the special touring car, special roadster, special "A" sedan and special four-passenger coupe.

As the reduction was made possible by economies effected in the purchase of equipment used exclusively on the special type cars, the standard types are in no way affected, according to Dessin Bros., San Mateo county distributors. The prices of all standard types remain unchanged.

San Mateo County Ex-Servicemen Urge President's Election

Organization of a Republican Association of War Veterans of San Mateo county pledged to work for the success of the Coolidge-Dawes candidacy in the November election was effected last night at a meeting in San Mateo. The following officers and executive committee were chosen: President, Stewart Nelson, San Mateo; secretary, Ray Mingins, Redwood City; executive committee, John A. Sinclair of San Mateo, Charles K. Kirkbridge of San Mateo, Kenneth Melrose of Redwood City, Eric Thompson of Redwood City, William Highland of South San Francisco, Basil Metropolis of Burlingame, Ernest Norberg of Burlingame, Jerome Hallinan of San Mateo.

The San Mateo county association formed last night is a unit in a state-wide organization being formed as a result of the success which a similar movement achieved in San Francisco. It was stated at the meeting. Tomorrow a branch will be formed in Alameda county.

Representatives of the state organization present last night were George Hatfield, chairman for Northern California; Kenneth Adams; Byron Fitts, state chairman; William McKinley, chairman for Southern California, and Phil Katz, secretary.

In a brief talk on the political situation, Mr. Hatfield said:

"I can see no reason why ex-service men of Republican faith should go outside of their party this year in voting for president. As a veteran, I shall do all that I can to bring about the election of Mr. Coolidge. I urge all ex-service men and women to consider carefully what would result if an independent candidate, running without party allegiance, should, by any chance, be the cause of throwing the selection of the independent candidate were realized, nothing but the most chaotic state of affairs in our government and in the business of the nation could result pending the choosing by the congress for the exalted office of chief executive of some man who is not now a candidate for that office."

The automobile association general offices in San Francisco and the 22 branch offices in this section of the state are prepared to advise hunters of the best places to go to bag their limits and to supply them with hunting licenses.

Reports received today by the automobile association indicate that the hunters who found good opening-day shooting today were those who found open water. This year the birds are concentrated in those few areas where water is to be found.

STEADINESS IS FACTOR IN NEWS PICTURE-TAKING

In the taking of motion pictures, it is necessary to have a stand that is steady and free from vibration. If the tripod shakes the film is practically ruined, or if it isn't it is so "jumpy" that theatergoers are annoyed.

As a consequence, whenever a camera man has to take a picture from an automobile, he has to choose the car with much care in order that it will "fill the bill" in every respect. So when the Fox News Weekly camera man found he was to photograph the recent around-the-world flyers' parade in San Francisco he looked around for a car that would fill every exacting need.

Maxwell Car Selected
After testing out several different makes of machines he selected a Maxwell touring car from George Campe, Inc., local Maxwell and Chrysler distributor, according to Ed Nolan, local Maxwell distributor.

He explained his reasons for selecting the Maxwell as follows: "To begin with, we needed a car that was free from vibration at low speeds and could travel two or three miles per hour in high gear without jerking. Coupled with that, we required a motor that would accelerate smoothly and rapidly."

How the Car Worked
"There were times when the machine was required to travel for blocks of two or three miles per hour, then dash into immediate action at high speed. Then again, correct spring action was required because rapid rebound or a lurching of the car would have meant disaster to the camera. So smoothly and quickly did the Maxwell fill these requirements that it was immediately pressed into service."

Motion pictures taken by Fox of the aviators' landing and parade through San Francisco are being shown throughout the country in the news weeklies.

Information Bureaus
OPENED FOR HUNTERS

With the duck hunting season opening today, sportsmen in Northern and Central California who want to know "where they're flying" will have 22 information bureaus at their disposal through the organization provided by the California State Automobile Association.

The automobile association general offices in San Francisco and the 22 branch offices in this section of the state are prepared to advise hunters of the best places to go to bag their limits and to supply them with hunting licenses.

Reports received today by the automobile association indicate that the hunters who found good opening-day shooting today were those who found open water. This year the birds are concentrated in those few areas where water is to be found.

Special Douglas air cruisers were built in a California factory, each driven by a 400-horsepower Liberty motor and having a cruising radius, with auxiliary gasoline tanks, of 1,500 to 2,000 miles. They were the only planes of their type in the world. Spare engines and parts were scattered along the route and everything was in readiness when the aviators left Santa Monica, Calif., March 17, for Seattle, where the planes were outfitted with pontoons and the start of the flight made April 6.

Four World's Records Broken When U. S. Fliers Ended Round-World Trip

Four world's records were shattered Sunday when two United States army planes completed a 27,000-mile globe-circling flight at Sand Point flying field, Seattle, after fighting their way through Canadian blizzards, treacherous Alaskan gales, torrid heat of India, heavy English fogs, and the ice-buried climate of Iceland and Greenland.

The first world's record was shattered when the Americans crossed the Pacific ocean from Attu island, the most westerly island of the Aleutian group, to Paramashiru island in the Kuriles, Japan. This 900-mile stretch was the longest jump of the entire trip. It was made in 12 hours and 5 minutes of flying time, the aviators resting a night in the lee of the Komandorski Islands during a blizzard en route.

America's second title came when the flyers crossed a 500-mile Kagoshima, Japan, to Shanghai, stretch over the China sea from China. This was the first time the China sea had been crossed by air.

The third honor was the completion of the around-the-world flight, a feat never before achieved by man in heavier-than-air machines.

Lastly, the intrepid Magellans of the air theoretically broke a record for traveling around the globe. The entire 27,000-mile trip was made in approximately 366.71 hours of actual flying, although the expedition was on the trip nearly 150 days after leaving Seattle. When the birdmen reached Constantinople, Turkey, they had covered 16,180 miles in 225 hours of flying, or an average of 76.36 miles an hour.

Faster Time Possible
If the aviators were equipped with machines that could stand 24 hours a day, the record for the world trip at the average of 76.36 miles an hour, they would have finished the journey in approximately 15 days and 6 hours.

By encircling the globe in the flying time of a little over 15 days, shattered the notable feat of John H. Mears, who, in 1913, went around the world by ship, train, and other modes of travel in 35 days, 21 hours, 36 minutes.

Fast trips around the globe included one made by Nutsy, Bill, reporter, in 1889, shortly after Jules Verne published his famous book, "Around the World in Eighty Days." She did it in 72 days, 6 hours, 11 minutes. In 1903 Henry Frederick cut this time to 56 days, 7 hours, 2 minutes. The world's record was broken in 1911 by Andre Jaeger-Schmidt, who encircled the earth in 39 days, 19 hours, 42 minutes, 38 seconds.

The making of the plans for the air trail blazers occupied more time on the part of the army aviators than the men spent on the journey. The 27,000-mile trail was divided into seven divisions. An advance officer was sent out over each division months in advance of the scheduled starting date to prepare maps, obtain data on weather, and lay out radio points and stations. Important points en route. Supplies were then sent to places chosen by the advance officers.

Special Douglas air cruisers were built in a California factory, each driven by a 400-horsepower Liberty motor and having a cruising radius, with auxiliary gasoline tanks, of 1,500 to 2,000 miles. They were the only planes of their type in the world. Spare engines and parts were scattered along the route and everything was in readiness when the aviators left Santa Monica, Calif., March 17, for Seattle, where the planes were outfitted with pontoons and the start of the flight made April 6.

Fly Over 20 Countries
During the flight the Americans either skirted or flew over 20 countries and provinces. Every contingency had to be expected. Of necessity the aviators had to be almost super-men, being possessed of nerves of steel, dauntless courage and exceptional physique. The climate ranged from the frigid Arctic weather along the Aleutian Islands of the North Pacific late in March to near tropical conditions in June while traversing India. Every ounce of weight had to be conserved to make carrying capacity for fuel.

When the airman reached cold districts they purchased heavy clothing. This was thrown away when warmer weather was encountered. Four planes left Seattle for the flight, commanded by Maj. Frederick L. Martin. He suffered a series of mishaps, including the damage of the flapplane Seattle in lighting at Prince Rupert, B. C., the first night out. Between Sitka and Cordova, Alaska, Major Martin narrowly averted colliding with the other planes in a snow storm. En route to Chignik, Alaska peninsula, he was forced down by engine trouble. His companions reached Chignik and he was found the next day at Cape Igvak, 50 miles east of Kanatak.

After three planes proceeded from Chignik to Dutch Harbor, in the Aleutian Islands, without Major Martin, storms prevented him from leaving Kanatak for several days. He then reached Chignik. Stormy weather continued, but Martin endeavored to rejoin his companions April 30. Nothing was heard of him until 10 days later, when it was learned that the Seattle had hit a mountain on the Alaska peninsula and that he would be out of the flight.

Finishes 27th Yr. as Pescadero 'Hello Girl'

Mrs. Anthony Enos of Pescadero received felicitations from the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company Monday on the event of her having completed on that day 27 years of service as manager of the Pescadero telephone office.

The telephone equipment was brought into Pescadero in 1897 and installed in the local post-office when James McCormick, father of Mrs. Enos and pioneer of this section, was the postmaster, during the Cleveland regime. The poles for the service were supplied to the company by Mrs. Enos' father, who at the time controlled large interests in the McCormick-Hamilton Lumber Mills in the Butano Canyon.

Since 1897, except for a period of three years while in the south, Mrs. Enos has been in charge of all telephone operations in the Pescadero section. In 1904 the telephone equipment was moved into the McCormick general merchandise store, and in 1922 it was placed where it is at present, in the store of which Mrs. Enos is the proprietor. Of the original telephone subscribers only two are now listed, J. C. Williamson and Mrs. Enos.

the flyers broke it by lighting in Nikolaki bay, where, on account of the absence of relations between the United States and Russia, no stop had been scheduled.

But the steamer Elder of the United States fisheries patrol hurried there ahead of the flyers, who arrived in the evening. The Russians came out in a boat and demanded that the Americans all leave. The Americans said that the flyers would go, but that the Elder needed water. The Russians replied that they would ask Moscow if the Elder could have water.

A snowstorm shrouded the bay, and the flyers went aboard the Elder and got a night's rest. In the morning they rose and continued to Paramashiru.

The Elder hurried away. She needed no water. Unusual ice conditions along the shores of Greenland delayed the flyers from leaving Iceland. However, they finally took advantage of good weather, made the flight across icebergs to the North American continent, Nova Scotia. From there they went down the St. Lawrence river to Quebec and Montreal. The stages from there included Boston, Mitchell Field on Long Island, Washington, Dayton, Chicago, Omaha, North Platte, Cheyenne, Salt Lake City, Sacramento, Eugene, Ore., and Sand Point Field on Lake Washington, near Seattle.

Lieutenant Wade, flying a plane sent from the United States for him and named the Boston II, rejoined the flight at Pictou Harbor, Nova Scotia.

Lieutenant Smith said in England: "The time is near when anybody will be able to make an 8,000 or 10,000-mile air trip without changing planes. As commercial aviation develops it will be merely a case, when one stage of the trip is completed of taking out the engines and slipping in new ones. Pilots will be changed and the journey continued."

Other Globe Flight Attempts
Four attempts to fly around the earth were made this summer. Major Sarmiento De Beires and two other Portuguese officers flew from Lisbon to Macao, wrecking one plane and replacing it and landing the other in a cemetery whence they could not take off and where the machine was dismantled.

Major A. Stuart MacLaren and two other British soldiers left Calshot, England, March 25, in one plane, put a new machine into service at Aktyab, India, and wrecked the latter by hitting a heavy sea when trying to avoid a small island in lighting near Nikolaki bay, August 3.

Major Pedro Zanni of Argentina started at Amsterdam July 26, and at last accounts was pushing his way through the Orient, intending to follow the route of the Americans in the reverse direction.

When the flyers reached Tokyo, Lieutenant Smith said that they had received the cold shoulder from Russia at Nikolaki. In the Komandorski Islands, off Siberia, the longest scheduled jump of the expedition was from Attu island to Paramashiru island, and

Numbers Issued To Stanford Grid Squad

Forty-six numbered football jerseys have been issued to Stanford's varsity football squad. Capt. Jim Lawson, All-Coast end last year, drew Number 1, and Ernie Nevers' numerals for the season will be 12.

Varsity gridders turned out earlier than usual for today's practice and at 9 o'clock "Pop" Warner had four teams running through signal drill on the enclosed practice field. Light scrimmaging was scheduled for this afternoon.

Reports from southern California indicate that Occidental College will be represented by a strong team Saturday when the Tigers open Stanford's season in the stadium. The Bengals have only been practicing for two weeks but the 1923 team has returned practically intact. Occidental has one of the best backs in the Southern California Conference in Earl Ridderhof, who may prove a troublemaker for Warner's men. Saturday's game is announced for 3 o'clock.

Following are the numbers given out to the Cardinal squad:

1, Jim Lawson; 2, Murray Cuddeback; 3, Bob Hunt; 4, Chuck Johnston; 5, Harry Shipkey; 6, Lynn Parrish; 7, Fred Swan; 8, George Baker; 9, Art Thomas; 10, Sandys; 11, Peabody Cleveland; 12, Ernie Nevers; 13, Fred Solomon; 14, Ted Shipkey; 15, Porky Dwight; 16, Bill Wheat; 17, Mitchell; 18, Bill Neill; 19, Cliff Hey; 20, Gil McDermont; 21, George Bogue; 22, Tex Middleton; 23, Ed Walker; 24, Nick Kirwan; 25, Les Herth; 26, Johnny Garthwaite; 27, Jim Kelly; 28, Frank Findley; 29, Wideman; 30, Wilbur Adams; 31, Stan Natcher; 32, Scott; 33, Fred Price; 34, Stuart van Hook; 35, Trombetta; 36, Moore; 37, Arch Mahan; 38, Poulson; 39, Harris; 40, Flood; 41, Art Greisser; 42, Jim Arthur; 43, Bob Wright; 44, Baldwin; 45, Simons.

the wiping out of the bootleg evil.

"No one is telling us anything new" when saying conditions are bad in the south end of the county. We have known it and we have made every effort possible to combat the situation, but the public simply does not realize the handicaps under which we work.

"Aside from the intricate requirements and technicalities of the liquor laws, it should be remembered that I have three men besides myself to handle all of the sheriff's office work throughout the county. The bootleg problem is but one of many. The greatest good that these people who are so anxious to see the law enforced can do is to go to the state legislature at Sacramento and see to it that adequate provision for men is made.

"Just as an example, I received a telephone call at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning, while looking at the prisoners in the Menlo Park jail, telling of an assault case in Half-Moon Bay. I had to speed there. Night after night, with little or no sleep for any of us, and nothing but criticism.

YOUTH CONFESSES ATTEMPTING TO BURN SCHOOL

SAN JOSE, Oct. 2.—To get revenge on the school principal who blocked his entrance to the Mountain View High School, Frank Salucca, 14, attempted to burn down the Mountain View Grammar School last Tuesday night. This was the story told by the youth to the county juvenile authorities. He is being held in the county detention home here. The principal is Kenneth Slater, head of the grammar school. He said that the boy had six months' work in his school before graduation. Salucca didn't like the idea of going to the lower school any longer. He said he wanted to associate with older boys. So at the beginning of the present school term he enrolled in the high school, stating that his diploma was home. When Principal Slater heard of this he notified the high school authorities and the youth's registration was cancelled. The boy threatened to get revenge. Several days later the attempt was made to burn the school. The floor was sprinkled with gasoline. The blaze was extinguished before considerable damage was done. Salucca was arrested Friday by Probation Officer Paul Americh. After considerable questioning he confessed.

Good news

If a fountain pen or a furniture polish is worthy, sooner or later you are likely to hear of it. Even if you never read the advertisements, the good news may trickle down to you in time.

Meanwhile, perhaps, you have tried and discarded many an unworthy polish or pen. Yet if you read the advertisements, you can know the best—be enjoying it from the first.

Advertisements keep you alert to the new—and to the best. Advertised goods cost less, because they sell in greater quantities.

Moreover the advertisements tell you of wares that justify your faith. You can buy them, confident of satisfaction. They can't be widely advertised unless they please.

Don't overlook the good news in these advertising columns each week.

First Phone Was Installed Here On July 10, 1902

The picturesque and romantic early history of the telephone industry in Central California will be recounted by delegates from this section at the eleventh annual convention of the Telephone Pioneers of America, to be held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, in Chicago, on October 9, 10 and 11, which, according to Manager Adams of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, in this district, will be one of the largest assemblages ever held by the organization.

The telephone, as a means of rapid communication, received immediate aid and attention from early inhabitants of California and the first telephone instruments used in San Francisco were installed in 1876, the same year in which the telephone was invented. The first telephone exchange in this city was established on July 10, 1902. In 1910 it served 62 telephone stations, while the present exchange handles calls from and to 838 telephone stations. An interesting memento of the past, one of the oldest telephone directories in existence, published in April, 1884, contains 66 pages, on which are printed the names of telephone subscribers of every town in California, which boasted the new service. Most of the communities mentioned are located in Central California, as the bulk of subscribers resided there. San Francisco, at that time, had 1,700 telephone stations in use. The delegates to the pioneers' annual convention will give accounts of the happenings, 45 years ago, when the telephone industry was in its infancy, and they were young and adventuresome.

NEW GAS HOLDER BUILT IN SAN JOSE BY P. G. & E.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 1.—The big 3,000,000 cubic foot gas holder, which has been constructed by the Bartlett-Havard Company of Baltimore for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company at the San Jose gas plant, has been completed.

In making this announcement, Roy N. McBride, resident engineer for the Bartlett-Havard Company, states: "Owing to local working conditions and San Jose's wonderful climate, we have been able to make a remarkable record in the construction of this mammoth container. The work was completed in 75 working days."

The new gas holder is 174 feet high and 177 feet in diameter. It is of the four life type. The total weight of steel in the holder is 3,100,000 pounds. A special type of piling was used as a foundation for the tank, which is the largest container of its kind in the Santa Clara valley. The first work in connection with the erection of this container was that of driving the piles. A unique method was used in driving these, which are of the concrete type, and are approximately 40 feet in length. A steel cylinder with a steel core was driven into the ground. The steel core was pulled out of the cylinder and concrete filled in its place. After the concrete set, the cylinder was withdrawn, leaving the concrete pile in the ground. Eight hundred and sixty-four piles were driven.

American interests recently made the largest single investment of capital ever in Bolivia in purchasing two famous tin properties and a subsidiary railroad for $27,000,000 and thereby securing control of half of that country's tin.
